News 2018 digest:

Trump-Macron: Is friendship built on shows of strength a true partnership?

Amid the fanfare of a state visit, what President Macron may be about to learn is whether or not punching above one's own weight translates into concrete results on matters of concern to France, especially when dealing with the 'America First' president.

Can Trump counter Mueller by handing out pardons?

Presidential pardon power is so broad, some legal scholars say, it even allows for pardons issued with 'corrupt intent.' Now, Democrats are moving to head off any potential efforts by President Trump to wield the power in ways that might undercut federal investigations.

Mississippi's pretrial jail terms among the longest in the nation

More than one-third of defendants jailed before trial in Mississippi spend 90 or more days incarcerated, according to a recent survey by the MacArthur Justice Center at the University of Mississippi. Inability to pay for bail or hire lawyers are some reasons for the delays.

Urban Democrats see new opportunities in midterm elections

While President Trump still has a strong following in rural regions, his support in urban areas is less certain. From Dallas to Cincinnati, Democrats are counting on changing demographics to help flip increasingly purple urban districts.

A principal's receptionist gathers up troublemakers with 'Queens in Pearls' mentoring group

Angelica Solomon saw girls go in and out of the principal's office daily in her North Carolina middle school. So she founded a mentoring group to correct what she saw as discipline without follow through.

Voter redistricting: US Supreme Court to hear third key case of term

In a year marked by several potentially landmark decisions, the most significant could be in the trio of gerrymandering cases the high court has reviewed - the last of which is being argued Tuesday.

Americans support raises for teachers, poll finds

As teacher strikes crop up across the country, a poll finds that many Americans support more money for teachers, and half would pay higher taxes to do so, according to The Associated Press-NORC

Girls receive warm welcome in introduction to Cub Scouts

An 'early adopter' program in New Hampshire has begun to bring girls into the Cub Scouts - the organization that feeds into the Boy Scouts - in advance of a broader national movement. So far, both Scouts and troop leaders have heralded the change.

At college decision time, conservatives face tough choices

Amid a growing feeling on the right that academia is shutting out conservative perspectives, new institutions are cropping up around the country to provide alternatives. But some students find that engaging with liberal ideas hones their own viewpoints.

Bob Corker's relationship with President Trump: It's complicated

Senator Corker told reporters at a Monitor Breakfast that he has a 'very warm relationship' with the president, but questions his colleagues who aren't conflicted over the Trump presidency.
